

Got your check?

You could still be eligible for thousands of dollars by filing taxes, even after the May 17th tax deadline!

Even if you earned no money or very little, you could be eligible for a stimulus check or money from other tax credits. It's not too late.

Don't file taxes?

You may still be eligible for thousands of dollars by filing taxes this year.

If you earned income or have dependent children you care for, you may be eligible for thousands of dollars through the Earned Income Tax Credit or the Child Tax Credit.

If you haven't filed taxes, file NOW:

- ▶ If you are the parent or primary caregiver for a child you could be eligible for thousands of dollars from the Child Tax Credit for each child and for daycare costs under the Child and Dependent Care Tax Credit.
- ▶ If you didn't receive your stimulus check(s), you can get it by filing your taxes and claiming the Recovery Rebate Credit.
- ▶ If you aren't required to file taxes because you have little or no income but you need to file to get the Child Tax Credit and/or your stimulus money, there is a Non-Filer Sign-Up Tool on the IRS website which is an easier way to file your taxes.
- ▶ You can also file 2018 or 2019 taxes to receive past refunds.

Check your eligibility! You are eligible for a stimulus check if:

- ▶ You have Adjusted Gross Income under $75,000 (individual), $112,500 (single head of household), or $150,000 (married couple, joint filing)
- ▶ You are a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien
- ▶ You have a Social Security number that is valid for employment
- ▶ No one else can claim you as a dependent on their taxes

NEW! If your spouse doesn't have a Social Security Number, but you do, you're eligible
